5. Study plan – proposed units (courses) you wish to study at Monash

Please choose eight units for your first semester at Monash and list your choices below:

- Visit: www.monash.edu.au/pubs/handbooks for course (unit) selection information
- It is compulsory for visiting students to be enrolled in a full-time on campus credit load. A full-time credit load for one semester is 24 credit points. Most units at Monash are worth 6 credit points but some are worth 4 credit points
- Some units may not be available, or may have conflicting schedules. Include several optional units in your selection.
- Your acceptance will be based on the units you select. You may be able to change your units on arrival. However, entry to new units cannot be guaranteed and admission is at the discretion of the relevant faculty
- Indicate whether the unit selected is required by your home university and that your enrolment at Monash is conditional upon your acceptance into this course (unit)
- If you are an undergraduate student, you must select units that begin with 1, 2, 3. eg. AUS1060, ENH2290, BIO3011
- All units selected should be on one campus. You can select units at both Clayton and Caulfield, which are connected by a 20 minute shuttle bus. You cannot choose units which are only offered off-campus (i.e. OCL or DE units) or outside Australia
- If you are applying to come to Monash for two semesters, select the units for your first semester only
