Program Fee Bills

IFSA-Butler will send a single bill for the entire program fee, which includes tuition, services and housing. Students who opt for independent housing will not be charged the housing component of the program fee.

Tuition

Our tuition fees are based on the arts and social science tuition charged by the host university. However, some universities charge a higher tuition for disciplines such as science, engineering and other specialty areas involving laboratory, studio or field work. We pass the charges for special subjects along to the student as a tuition differential. Tuition differential fees are based on previous years' costs and are subject to change.

Housing

The housing component of our program fee is based on the average cost of local student self-catering accommodation, usually a shared room in a regular dormitory, apartment or house without any extra features.

When a student is assigned to full-service housing, such as a residential college, there may be a housing supplemental charge for full service facilities. These fees are estimates based on previous years' costs and are subject to change.

Please see program materials or contact your IFSA-Butler program advisor for independent housing options and procedures.

† Housing Deposit

All students are required to pay a housing deposit of $300. This payment is in addition to the program fee but is due on the same date. The deposit is held separately from the program fee and should be paid separately. The deposit is refunded to the student after the program, less any damages, fines or outstanding debts in the student's name.

Supplemental Charges Notes

Charges listed below are approximate costs and may be subject to change. Any fees over these approximate costs will be billed to the responsible party as we receive them from the host university.

1. University of Bristol

Students assigned to residence halls with mandatory meal plans will be billed approximately $1,800 to $3,000 per year.

2. Cambridge University

Additional fees of approximately $2,000 for the semester or $4,000 for the year are charged for enrollment in the following disciplines: architecture, chemical engineering, computer science, electrical science, engineering, geography, managerial studies, music and natural sciences.

3. *City University

Additional fees are charged for enrollment in engineering, computer and music programs. These fees are approximately $1,600 for one term, $2,200 for two terms and $4,000 for the year.

Students not housed in university residence halls will be guaranteed IFSA-Butler program accommodation with a supplemental fee of approximately $1,000–$1,700 for the fall, $2,000–$3,000 for the spring and $3,000–$4,000 for the year.

4. University of East Anglia

An additional fee of approximately $975 will be assessed for the drama term program to cover costs of London accommodation. Science students must cover the costs of labs, lab coats and so forth.

5. *King's College London

Additional fees are charged for enrollment in science, geography and music programs. These fees are approximately $1,000 for the fall semester, $2,000 for the spring semester and $4,000 for the year. These fees are prorated on the basis of the percentage of courses taken in these disciplines.

Several residence halls have mandatory board plans. Students assigned to these halls will be billed approximately $1,000 for the fall semester, $1,700 for the spring semester and $2,500 for the academic year. Students not housed in university residence halls will be guaranteed IFSA-Butler program accommodation with a supplemental fee of approximately $1,000–$1,700 for the fall, $2,000–$3,000 for the spring and $3,000–$4,000 for the year.

7. University of Leeds

Students assigned to residence halls with mandatory meal plans will be billed approximately $1,000 for the semester or $2,500 for the year.

8. University of Nottingham

Students assigned to residence halls with mandatory meal plans will be charged approximately $1,000 for each term or $3,000 for the year.

9. Oxford University

Additional fees are charged for each laboratory-based course. These fees are approximately $600 for one term, $1,200 for two terms and $1,800 for the year.

The St. Edmund Hall fee includes thirty-eight meals per term.

10. *Queen Mary, University of London

Students not housed in university residence halls will be guaranteed IFSA-Butler program accommodation with a supplemental fee of approximately $1,000–$1,700 for the fall, $2,000–$3,000 for the spring and $3,000–$4,000 for the year.

11. *Royal Holloway, University of London

Students enrolled in music performance courses will be required to pay a £700 fee directly to the music department at Royal Holloway.

12. *SOAS, University of London

If assigned to an intercollegiate hall with a mandatory board plan, the board charge is approximately $1,800 for the year or $700 per semester. Students not housed in university residence halls will be guaranteed IFSA-Butler program accommodation with a supplemental fee of approximately $1,000–$1,700 for the fall, $2,000–$3,000 for the spring and $3,000–$4,000 for the year.

13. *University College London/Slade

Additional fees are charged for enrollment in Slade School of Fine Art, Bartlett and science and engineering departments. These fees are approximately $3,100 for the fall semester, $4,000 for the spring semester and $6,400 for the year. The same charges apply to anthropology, archaeology, geography and psychology. This additional charge is based on the department to which the student is admitted.

Students assigned to residence halls with mandatory meal plans will be billed approximately $750 for the fall semester, $2,300 for the spring semester or $3,000 for the year. Students not housed in university residence halls will be guaranteed IFSA-Butler program accommodation with a supplemental fee of approximately $1,000–$1,700 for the fall, $2,000–$3,000 for the spring and $3,000–$4,000 for the year.

14. *University of Westminster

Students not housed in university residence halls will be guaranteed IFSA-Butler program accommodation with a supplemental fee of approximately $1,000–$1,700 for the fall, $2,000–$3,000 for the spring and $3,000–$4,000 for the year.

*For further details about additional charges for housing in London, please see housing information included in the host university's program materials on our Web site.

These figures are designed to assist students with financial planning but are only estimates based on past students' experiences at an exchange rate of $1.95 to 1 GBP. They do not include any entertainment or vacation travel costs. If the student is accepted into a catered residential college providing full board, substitute the accommodation supplemental (detailed in the Supplemental Charges section) for the meal cost estimate above.

The above numbers are general estimates of expenses during a program abroad. We recommend taking into account your current spending habits, the cost of living in your host country and the current exchange rate. Your IFSA-Butler program advisor can be helpful as you attempt to work on a personal budget for your experience abroad.

Commuting costs estimates are for transportation between housing and university. Transportation for personal or recreational purposes should be considered personal costs.

An entry clearance is required for any student who plans to study in the United Kingdom for more than six months or who plans to pursue internships, volunteer work or paid employment. There is no fee for the student visitor visa for the United Kingdom.

† Personal Miscellaneous estimates cover general expenses of college life, including laundry, course supplies, photocopying, toiletries, snacks, personal care, etc.

All costs are in U.S. dollars.

What's Included in Our Program Fee

IFSA-Butler offers more comprehensive student support than any other study abroad organization. In addition to a great academic and cultural experience abroad, our fees include the following:

Academics

- Tuition
- Full academic advising and course selection/approval assistance
- Butler University transcript for easy credit transfer
- Academic records maintenance
